Power Climber Provides 100 Custom Hoists to Leading Elevator Manufacturer

SEATTLE – Power Climber, a division of SafeWorks, LLC, recently customized its market-leading PC3 traction hoist to meet unique workload needs of the world’s leading elevator manufacturer.

Power Climber’s experienced engineering team modified its 1,500-lb capacity PC3 hoist to accept custom elements the customer required. After just a few days of design and production, Power Climber provided the product for field trials and internal qualification testing. When the customized hoist met the customer’s expectations, production immediately began to fulfill their order of 100 hoists.

“Our high quality product, rapid response, and thorough follow-through enabled us to edge out competitors and win this opportunity,” commented Mike Russell, National Sales Director for Power Climber. “Not only did we successfully customize a product quickly, we also supplied drawings, training, and an aftermarket support piece. We delivered on all of the customer’s requirements, once again demonstrating nearly seven decades of access expertise.”
